

Fabien Gaboriaud

Born 1972

PhD in Material science. Fabien has spent all his career in Materials Research & Development domains, 13 years as a researcher at CNRS (Centre National Recherche Scientifique) in Nancy university and 14 years within the R&D Michelin Group at different positions. Since 2017, Fabien is Material Research Director, with responsibility of developing disruptive material innovations for tire applications but also for the High-Tech Materials division (hydrogen, medical, flexible composites). July 1st, 2023, Fabien will take on a new role as Vice President Sustainable Materials and Circularity for the Michelin Group.

